

- When I first started the assignment I had a bit of trouble with setting up the github. I had to watch some videos from the modules and youtube. Then I realized it's actually kind of easy.

What I worked on:

- My job was to make the ball move. Making the ball move was alright then I ran into an error. This whole time it wasn't from my code. I wasted 2 hours trying to fix it.
- I think it was an error from a different branch because I'm not doing collision.

- Then I noticed most of the time I was committing to main and I don't know how to fix it.

Working with my group

- I wish we started working earlier. We kind of started at the last minute.
